Payment Distribution Process

The process of distributing the Benazir Income Support Program payments has been improved so that the money reaches those who are entitled to it. The beneficiaries can receive their stipend safely and easily. The key steps in this process are:

- Eligibility Assessment: Women from low-income households are identified through a Poverty Means Test (PMT). Those with a PMT score within the specified range are deemed eligible for the program.
- Registration: Eligible women are registered into the program's database. This involves collecting personal information and verifying identity through the National Database and Registration Authority (NADRA).

- Payment Method Selection: Eligible women can choose from a variety of ways to receive money. Eligible women can receive money from their accounts, mobile wallets, and cash sites.
- Biometric Verification: To ensure that the assistance reaches the intended recipients, biometric verification is conducted at the time of payment collection. This step minimizes the risk of fraud and enhances the program's integrity.
- Disbursement: Once verification is complete, the stipulated amount is disbursed to the beneficiary through the chosen payment method.

Payment Schedule for 2025

In 2025, the Benazir Income Support Program has increased the quarterly stipend from Rs. 10,500 to Rs. 13,500, reflecting the government's commitment to supporting low-income families.
