Why is re-verification of school admission necessary?

Every year in March, children take their annual exams. After passing, they are promoted to the next class in April. During this time, many parents change their children's schools for better education or other reasons.

However, when a child changes schools, their new school records are not automatically available to the Benazir Kafalat Child Payments. If your child's school data is out of date, the system cannot verify their admission. As a result, your child's scholarship may be terminated. To avoid this problem, you need to provide proof of admission from the new school and complete the re-verification process for Benazir Kafalat Child Payments.

Documents Required for Verification

Visit for more details: <https://bisp.gov.pk/>

To complete the re-verification, you will need to submit the following documents:

- A verification slip from your child's new school (this confirms that the child is enrolled in the current school).
- Your child's valid B-Form.
- Original CNIC of the parents (for identification at the time of submission).

Make sure that these documents are clear, correct, and updated so that there is no delay in the verification process.

Who needs to get re-verified?

- Parents who receive Benazir Kafalat scholarships for their school-going children.
- Families whose children have changed schools (government or private) after the annual exams.
- Parents whose children have been promoted to a new class after March and have moved to another school.

If your child is in the same school and class, you do not need to get re-verified. This process is applicable only to children who have joined a new school.
