What is BISP Kafalat Emergency Support?

??? BISP Kafalat is a program that provides unconditional financial assistance to women from low-income families.

??? Its Emergency Support component is activated especially in cases of national crises such as natural disasters and health emergencies, where immediate short-term payments are made so families can quickly meet their needs.

μ This money is given directly to women so they can use it for household needs, especially for children's food, health, and education.

Why is emergency support important?

??? The losses can be so severe that the entire family is no longer able to survive.

When the COVID-19 lockdown came, millions of daily wage earners lost their income.

Many villagers lost their homes and farms during the floods.

In such situations, people cannot wait for months to get help.

BISP Kafalat Emergency Support meets this challenge by:

Providing immediate cash so people can buy essential items like food and medicine.

Helping with rent or temporary household expenses.

Giving money directly to women so they can make immediate household decisions.

Protecting families from falling into deep poverty during hard times.

Who is eligible?

Eligibility for Emergency Assistance depends on the nature of the hardship. Preference is usually given to marginalized groups:

Women already enrolled in the BISP Kafalat program.

Newly vulnerable households identified through the National Socio-Economic Registry (NSER).

Households confirmed to be affected by specific hardships like flood damage or job loss due to COVID.

Applicants must have a valid ID card (CNIC) and are verified before funds are released.

How does registration work?

Easy Registration via SMS is the highlight of the Emergency Support System. It generally works like this:

• Send SMS to 8171

Families send their ID card number to the official BISP 8171 service.

• Eligibility Check

The system verifies their information against the official database.

Confirmation Message

If eligible, the applicant receives instructions on how to get the payment.

Biometric Verification

Identity is verified at the payment center using biometric devices.

Cash Withdrawal

Emergency or one-time payments are given immediately.

This method reduces paperwork, speeds up assistance delivery, and ensures aid reaches the right person.

How is payment made?

BISP uses special payment centers and partner banks to disburse emergency funds.

These centers are equipped with biometric machines to prevent fraud and duplicate payments.

In some places, especially in cities, mobile banking and digital wallets are also used to speed up payments.

Impact of BISP Kafalat Emergency Support

The program has proven its worth in many emergencies:

During COVID-19:

Millions of families received immediate cash to meet their needs in the weeks after the lockdown.

During the drought:

Homeless families got funds for temporary shelter and food while waiting for long-term recovery.

In economic hardship:

A one-time payment helped families cope with rising prices of fuel and other essentials.

The secret to its success is its fast, transparent, and women-centered approach providing financial support while strengthening women's decision-making roles at home.

Facing difficulties

Although the program's effectiveness is appreciated, some challenges remain:

Excessive crowding at payment centers.

Network problems for SMS verification in remote areas.

Payment delays due to loss of ID cards during disasters.

To fix this, BISP is expanding mobile registration vans, enhancing digital services, and adding more payment methods to improve access and speed.

The Big Picture â?? Beyond Cash Aid
