What Is Vehicle Token Tax Calculator?

Vehicle Token Tax Calculator is a yearly charge imposed by provincial governments for vehicles that have been registered in their area. Both cars and motorcycles are subject to this tax, and it is determined mainly by the engine capacity (CC) of the vehicle. In general, higher engine capacity results in a higher token tax amount.

The tax collected goes, in part, to the government's revenue, which is allocated for:

- Roads upkeep and expansion
- Traffic control systems
- Public transportation and infrastructure projects

How Is the Vehicle Token Tax Calculator in Pakistan?

The token tax is calculated in predefined slabs set by the excise departments. These slabs categorize vehicles according to their engine capacity and vehicle type.

In simple terms:

- Motorcycles with lower CC pay less tax
- Cars with higher CC pay higher token tax
- Rates may slightly differ between provinces like Punjab, Sindh, KP, and Islamabad

Because these slabs can be confusing for the general public, an online calculator provides a quick and understandable estimate.
